Let's Start!

Let's discuss the next step!

Learning Outcome

Identify and describe jobs and careers in both work and social contexts appropriate for the interlocutor.

Can Do Statements

- I can talk about jobs and career plans.
- I can respond to difficult questions.
- I can discuss future actions.

Ask your partner:

- Where do you see yourself in 10 years?
- What kind of job do you want?

Let's Explore!

Kristi visits her mom. Does she ask her mom to give her a hand?

* "To give a hand" means to help someone do something.

Instructions: Read the text aloud.

Kristi's Mom: So, Kristi, what do you plan on doing next?

Kristi: Beats me. I'm young. I'm just going to take it day by day.

Kristi's Mom: Kristi, you can't just sit around and wait for a job. You have got to look. What do you intend to do?

Kristi: Good question. I'm thinking of looking online.

Kristi's Mom: That's a good idea. What kind of job are you thinking of applying for?

Kristi: How should I know? I'd like to do something related to journalism or public relations maybe.

Kristi's Mom: How about becoming a news reporter? It would be so lovely to see you on TV every day.

Kristi: Definitely not! I'd like to do something more behind the scenes.

Kristi's Mom: What were you thinking then?

Kristi: It's hard to say ... I guess it depends on the kind of jobs that are out there.

Kristi's Mom: Well, you remember my friend Danielle? She works for a radio station. She's the programming coordinator for the station. I could talk to her if you'd like.

Kristi: That's alright, Mom. I'm actually hoping to work for a publication.

Kristi's Mom: What kind of publication were you thinking?

Kristi: Your guess is as good as mine. I just hope to find a job sooner rather than later.

Kristi's Mom: A newspaper, maybe a magazine?

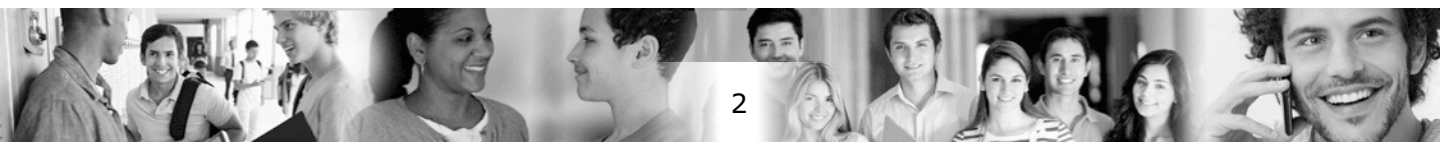

Kristi: Right now it's anyone's guess, really.

Kristi's Mom: What are you going to do about that? You need to be more proactive.

Kristi: I know, Mom. I'm going to do some research online this afternoon. I'm planning to create a shortlist of the jobs that I feel suit me better, and then, I intend to apply for each one of them.

Kristi's Mom: That's a good plan. I would like to help. I'm thinking of giving you a hand with your research. What's the best website for jobs?

Kristi: Don't ask me.

Let's Practice!

Kristi's mom mentions a few different options for her. What are they?

Instructions: Find the words in the word search.

Discussing Future Actions

There are other verbs and patterns you can use to express hope and expectations for the future apart from using the Future tense .

You can use:

- hope + to + verb
- (be) + plan (-ing) + to + verb / (be) + plan (-ing) + on + verb-ing
- be going to + verb
- would like + to + verb
- intend + to + verb / thinking of + verb-ing

Verb/Pattern	Use	Example
hope + to + verb	used to express something you want or expect to be true in the future	I'm hoping to find a job soon.
(be) + plan (-ing) + to + verb (be) + plan (-ing) + on + verb-ing	used to express that you think carefully about actions that you need to take in order to achieve something	I plan to find a new job. I'm planning on finding a new job.
be going to + verb	used to express your intentions	I'm going to start looking soon. would like + to + verb	used to express the idea that you want to do something in the future	I would like to do something related to my degree.
intend + to + verb	used to express that you have something in your mind as a plan or purpose	What do you intend to do?
thinking of + verb-ing	used to express considering doing something	I'm thinking of giving you a hand with that.

Responding to Difficult Questions

When talking to people, you may find you are asked difficult questions. If you are not sure about the answer, there are different ways to respond to say you "don't know" the answer.

Here are some ways to respond to difficult questions:

- Beats me!
- Good question.
- Who knows?
- How should I know?
- Maybe?
- It's hard to say ...
- I guess it depends.
- Your guess is as good as mine.
- I have no idea.
- It's anyone's guess, really.
- Don't ask me.

Expression	Meaning
Beats me!	used to say that you do not know or understand something in an informal way
Your guess is as good as mine.	used to say that you know as little about something as the person who asked you about it
Who knows? It's anyone's guess, really.	used to say that you don't know something because it is impossible for anyone to know it
I have no idea.	used when you have no information and you cannot guess the answer to a question
How should I know? Don't ask me.	used when you do not know something and you feel annoyed that someone is asking you about it
